

⇒ For this semester, our course will be held both face-to-face and online (on zoom platform). Please follow the course website and webonline for the schedule, announcement and updates.

Course Description:

Architectural History IV is the last one of four general survey courses that provides students with a critical understanding of architectural developments and cross-cultural relations. This course covers art and architecture of the 20th and 21st centuries as exemplified especially in Turkey. Steady and rapid changes, similar and contrasting ideas and their reflections in art & architecture will be discussed in the course.

Course Objectives:

This course aims to examine how the similar and contrasting ideas are reflected in art & architecture. Weekly lectures are not thought as closed entities but as complementing each other. Besides providing students with general architectural and cultural knowledge and enabling them to exercise critical thinking, this course also supplements design studios through investigating cause and effect relationship in historical cases.

Attendance:

Attendance will be taken for each course hour. The instructor may take the attendance anytime during each course hour. Students have to be there in person and sign the attendance form. A student who is not there at the moment when the attendance is taken and does not sign the form in person cannot claim presence for that course hour. Students who did not attend at least 70% of attendances during the semester will receive an NA grade.

Grading:

There are two written exams (all exams will be held in class, face-to-face) being one Midterm Exam, one Final Exam during the semester.

Mid-Term Exam: 50%; Final Exam: 50%. Exam notes will be announced in <http://arch311.cankaya.edu.tr> and webonline.
